

Go Green with MEX

Being a responsible citizen of the planet earth, thinking of the days to come is paramount given the perpetual environmental degradation. Resources are getting scarcer with each passing days.

The smallest acts of people will indeed hold our planet in good stead and eradicate the negative impacts thereby improving the eco-system of the planet.

The evidence of life i.e. water, is being contaminated with dangerous ingredients including batteries and harsh cleaners, are harming the very existence of the proof of life on our planet earth. Likewise, these ingredients also contaminate the soil where all our food grows. The poisonous chemical components cannot be removed from the water we eat or the food we eat and also cannot be removed from the systems of the animals that eat the crops.

We cannot change the inevitable but we can responsibly recycle these harmful components and use products that are green and kind to the environment thereby sufficing our immediate needs. Simply go green!
